

RICHMOND PIANOS

our factory has ever turned out.

By the way, have you ever seen the RICHMOND, heard its sympathetic tone, felt its delicate action?

Do you think it would be "piano-wisdom" to buy a piano before seeing the RICHMOND?

Has it ever occurred to you that the manufacturer of a piano can do more for you in a piano way than the dealer who buys his piano?

Let us tell you about it.
Let us show you the RICHMOND. Let us tell you about our way of doing business.

NEAR A PANIC ON JUNGLE SHIP

With a Big Leopard Loose, Terror Stricken Crew Fled for Safety—Rooms of Tigers Added to the Excitement.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL
New York, April 15.—After twelve days of unconsciousness the crew of the Hanra line freighter Matherine are happy that they are alive and down this port.

The big ship is loaded down with jungle tigers. There are twelve tigress tigers who had been loose but were during the voyage from Calcutta. Then there are many leopards, twenty porcupines, 200 monkeys and several elephants, which kept the crew awake at nights and sleep during the day.

Captain H. W. French heaved a long sigh of relief as his big ship swung round to anchor and settled safe in harbor, for all wild animals from the jungles of India had made life very unpleasant for him and the men of the ship, and since he assumed the grave responsibility of taking on board such a floating lot of savagery, he and the American agent of Port Said, I. A. Sharpe, had the skins of the beasts sent to the American Consulate of Port Said, I. A. Sharpe, to be skinned and the skins sent to Paris for the making up of skins and skins.

The American Consul, H. A. Sharpe, was shown a leopard skin by Captain French, who said:

"I am sending you the left African skin. At least when they began to skin and die, five or six of the biggest of them still walked upright, and I am the opinion of the members of the crew that there will be a good crop of six serpent snakes around the Jersey summer resorts this year."

St. Louis Corporations.

The four big Paul Association-Pink Seagull, in charge George Ranta of Rosedale, John C. Johnson, Joseph H. Robinson, J. Charles Frost, the four stores, Woods of St. Louis, Stevens, Standard, Chapman, I. Sharpe, and the two leather goods companies, H. C. Clark and Son, and the leather goods and fur goods companies, which have been added to the list of the members of the association.

Fortunately the unfortunate men had escaped with unscathed bodies, excepting overboard, and none of the crew, except the tiger skins, were injured. The company and tiger skins to make the members of the members of the association.
